Subcommittee on Labor, HHS, Education, & Related Agencies
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Chairwoman DeLauro, Ranking Member Granger and Ranking Member Cole:

On behalf of small and seasonal businesses across the country, we strongly urge you to remove Sections 116, 117 and 118 from the Fiscal 2022 Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee appropriations bill. Sections 116, 117, and 118 will greatly harm small and seasonal businesses and their American workers.

This language would categorically restrict numerous industries from participating in the H-2B program, including those hardest-hit by the pandemic. The intent of Section 101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(b) was to provide a means for United States employers to find temporary workers for jobs that unemployed U.S. workers were unable or unwilling to do. By banning specific industries from participating in the program, this language effectively nullifies the authorizations in Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). The lookback provisions on unemployment rates for specific industry would render the H-2B program closed for Fiscal 2022 and would hamper our nation's economic recovery. Employers nationwide continue to struggle with meeting their workforce needs.<sup>1</sup> Without access to the H-2B program, seasonal businesses and their American workers will suffer.

<https://wpde.com/news/local/ahead-of-busiest-weekend-for-myrtle-beach-yet-businesses-still-face-employee-shortage>

It is all but a certainty that the Department of Labor will have significant difficulties implementing these new program requirements. All of the provisions contained in this language will necessitate an overhaul of the H-2B application process and will waste a significant amount of Labor Department resources. For example, the first step in obtaining a labor certification for H-2B workers is to apply for a Prevailing Wage Determination (PWD) from DOL. The language in this bill will not only render that step a nullity, but it will also make it extremely difficult for employers to be able to use the program to meet their workforce needs. This language would seek to set the prevailing wage for H-2B workers equal to a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) wage in the area of intended employment. Clearly, the authors of this text failed to account for the entity responsible for determining if there is a CBA in a given area of intended employment and whether implementing such a requirement would be feasible on a national scale. The Department, let alone the National Processing Center of the Office of Foreign Labor Certification, is ill equipped to make such determinations across the country. At the very least, implementing this requirement would require an overhaul of the system and a formal rulemaking by the Departments of Labor and Homeland Security.<sup>2</sup> The additional provisions of Section 117 would also require the Department to change their current methodology, thus necessitating further rulemaking to implement these new, onerous burdens upon H-2B employers, many of whom are small businesses.

Section 116, which does not allow the Department to expend funds in adjudicating a petition for the Construction industry, requires the Department, by the very nature of how the Department receives applications, to violate the “no spending” language. This provision would require the Department, for a temporary spending “freeze”, to either overhaul its technology platform (spend money) to reject applications with the specific North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code or train staff (spend money) to reject applications with such codes. As explained above, the provisions in Section 117 have basically nullified the process of receiving a PWD, which is the only place the Department even collects the NAICS code information. These provisions will require the Departments of Labor and Homeland Security to expend significant government resources on implementing this “no spending” restriction through implementing a new regulation, which will likely include a lengthy Paperwork Reduction Act process to collect the information on different forms, due to the changes that the Labor Department would be forced to make to the PWD process.

Third, Section 118 is nearly impossible for the Department to implement. The only feasible way the Department could ensure it did not expend funds to adjudicate an application from an employer that met one of the restrictions of Section 118 would be to add attestations to the Form ETA-9142B and require every H-2B employer to attest that they have not met one of the conditions. This would require the Department to conduct another lengthy Paperwork Reduction Act filing. While it is theoretically possible for the Department to proceed under emergency filing, that would require the spending of Department resources, not to mention the unmeasured cost to all H-2B employers to verify that they can attest to not meeting any conditions of Section 118. Furthermore, it is uncertain if an attestation process would be legally sufficient for meeting the requirements of Section 118. An employer would have to knowingly falsify the attestation to be held liable for perjury, if an employer did a thorough review and believed it did not meet any of the conditions of Section 118, but actually did, the Department would have to expend funds adjudicating that application and would have no legal recourse against the employer other than to spend additional funds to revoke the certification. There is no readily available means of knowing which employers or principal of the employers would meet any of the conditions of Section 118.

Finally, this language would make fundamental changes to the H-2B program that are not appropriate in the context of an appropriations bill. Fundamental changes to the program like these should only be discussed in the context of an authorizing bill that is being considered by both the House and Senate Judiciary Committees and such a package should include permanent and meaningful cap relief. Further, it is inappropriate to categorically exclude specific industries from participating in the program. Program eligibility should be based on an employer meeting the program's participation criteria of having a seasonal, peak load or one-time labor need and upon obtaining an approved temporary labor certification from the Department of Labor after the company has sought and failed to obtain U.S. workers to fill those jobs.

The H-2B program is expensive and requires employers to undertake extensive recruitment of American workers, offer employment to any qualified American worker, gain approval from four government agencies, and pay a premium wage (which is equal to 50% of all workers in an SOC within a given area of intended employment). H-2B workers allow U.S. businesses to operate at a greater capacity, retain their full-time workers and contribute to their local economies. This program serves as a critical safety valve for companies to address seasonal labor needs when there are not a sufficient number of available American workers to meet the demand for these short-term jobs. Every H-2B worker supports 4.64 American jobs.<sup>3</sup> Further, a 2020 General Accountability Office report concluded that "counties with H-2B employers generally had lower unemployment rates and higher average weekly wages than counties that do not have any H-2B employers."<sup>4</sup>

Seasonal businesses take seriously our role in our nation's economic recovery. We can best contribute to the economy by employing a full workforce, including our American workers and H-2B workers who support those American jobs. H-2B employers, many of which are small businesses, are committed to hiring any willing and able American workers before turning to H-2B workers, as the program currently requires. The businesses that currently need workers have stepped up their recruitment of American workers, but due to factors such as the seasonality of the work, the nature of the work, and the location of the job, there are instances where H-2B workers are still needed. For these reasons, we strongly urge the committee to
